Construction Day Three Continues as Planned

Rockville, Md. – June 25, 2008 – Construction continued today at the EMHE Poolesville site as crews finalized the structural details and began to focus on the inside. HVAC was installed on Day Two along with plumbing, electricity, and fire sprinklers. Roofing was completed as well and the home was fully insulated from top to bottom, including the attic. Siding was added as well, giving the home a finished appearance. Thankfully, all new additions to the home passed inspection at 3 am!

As the day continues, drywall will be loaded, landscaping will begin, and interior painting will be completed. Completion of the brick and tiles are also on the agenda for the remainder of Construction Day Three.
